

ONLINE STUDENT FEEDBACK SUMMARY

North Bengal St. Xavier's College conducted an online student feedback survey on Teaching-Learning and Evaluation via Google Forms. The link was shared with students of all semesters through their respective department heads, and students were given a week to submit their responses. The feedback primarily focused on the teaching methodologies adopted during the academic year 2023-2024. The students expressed high satisfaction with the teaching methodologies, particularly in terms of conceptual clarity and presentation by the teachers. The methodologies were rated as interactive, educational, motivational, and value-driven. Students greatly appreciated the faculty's efforts in providing necessary support, including audio-visual classes and study materials, which helped them continue their education seamlessly. The overall quality of teaching was deemed very effective.

Additionally, students lauded the library's efforts in providing multiple learning opportunities and the timely dissemination of university examination-related information from the Academic Office and Examination Cell. They also praised the infrastructure provided by the college. Students suggested introducing new add-on certificate courses such as communication skills development, foreign languages, travel and tourism, digital marketing, data science, and aviation in the coming years.
